CHAPTER 1: PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES

The purpose of these regulations is to provide for the development of the Rancho de Los Alisos Planned Community as a coordinated, comprehensive project in order to take advantage of the superior human environment which results from large-scale urban planning.

These regulations are intended to provide for a diversity of uses, relationships, heights and bulk of buildings. Major watercourses through the urban areas of the plan provide an opportunity for natural appearing greenbelts within the urbanscape.

An objective of these regulations is to encourage the effective use of the natural topography and open space by preserving many of the most prominent and distinctive geological features while blending the urban development into the natural topography through the use of innovative grading criteria and techniques.

Another objective of these regulations is to provide the opportunity for innovative site design to help meet the ever increasing need for adequate housing at affordable prices. Creation of an equitable balance between the opportunity for the private sector to propose innovative projects to meet today's and tomorrow's community needs, with the equally important opportunity for public review and input to those proposals, is a prime objective of the Rancho de Los Alisos Planned Community Development Plan and Supplemental Text.

These regulations have as an objective the creation of a document which will result in the development of a balanced living environment, responsive to the social, economic and physical needs of the inhabitants here and of surrounding communities. This document is designed to act as a natural extension of the goals, policies and guidelines of the General Plan.

The Feature Plan review procedure is used to accomplish the objective of providing a logical and timely sequence of community and governmental review and input. The Feature Plan should demonstrate how the major water courses will be treated to ensure their conservation as natural appearing greenbelts within the urbanscape. The Feature Plan should also demonstrate how the prominent geographical features will be preserved while blending the urban development into the natural topography. Approved Feature Plans are supplements to this Text and Development Plan.

The purpose of the Site Plan review process is to provide for review of detailed, final plans for all projects within the Rancho de Los Alisos Planned Community. A Site Plan may also be approved which establishes alternative development standards for projects, in accordance with an approved Feature Plan.

The Site Plan review process provides assurances that all projects proposing alternative development standards will be planned, established, and maintained in a manner that will be compatible with surrounding uses. Site Plan review will also ensure that precise development plans are consistent with the approved Feature Plan and the provisions of this PC Development Plan and Supplemental Text.

CHAPTER 2: GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. An Annual Monitoring Report (AMR) shall be prepared and submitted in the fall of each year to the County Administrative Office/Urban Monitoring, Analysis Center and the Environmental Management Agency/Advance Planning Division. The submittal of an AMR for the Planned Community is required for conformance with the Growth Management Program of the Land Use Element of the Orange County General Plan and the County's Annual Development Monitoring Program.

The Board of Supervisors, in the annual adoption of the Development Monitoring Program, may identify a significant imbalance between development projections and planned infrastructure or in the proportionate development of residential, commercial and employment land uses. The Board of Supervisors may then defer subdivision approval within the Planned Community until approaches capable of resolving imbalances are proposed to and approved by the Board of Supervisors. The AMR will be the project proponent's opportunity to demonstrate mitigation measures and infrastructure for the Planned Community.

2. All Planning Units which allow for residential uses shall be developed consistent with the maximum number of dwelling units indicated for the Planning Unit in the Statistical analysis in the Feature Plan. The statistical analysis in the Feature Plan may be revised in accordance with the requirements contained in Section 7-9-150 of the Zoning Code and the additional requirements contained in Chapter 12 contained herein so long as the total number of dwelling units permitted in each land use category and subtotal in the Planned Community Development Plan statistical Summary is not exceeded and the total number of dwelling units for the entire Planned Community does not exceed 4966. No amendment to this Development Plan or Supplemental text shall be required solely for the purpose of changing the number of estimated dwelling units or acreage assigned to a Planning Unit as indicated on the Statistical Analysis in the Feature Plan, provided the change is consistent with the adopted Statistical Summary on the Planned Community Development Plan.

CHAPTER 12: FEATURE PLANS

A. Purpose

The objective of the requirement for the Feature Plan is to provide a logical sequence of community and governmental review and input. Approved Feature Plans are supplements to this Text and Development Plan.

The purpose of the Feature Plan is to define the proposed development concept for a planning area and its relationships to surrounding uses. It is the intent of the Feature Plan to provide graphic and written project guidance (in conformance with the General Plan) to the subdivision map, use permit and site plan review procedures. A feature plan is also intended to delineate the manner in which development will treat areas of special concern.

B. Requirements

1. The Feature Plan shall cover the entire area as delineated on the Development Plan. It shall cover such adjacent territory as is necessary to present a sufficient study of the project and its impacts. Feature Plans are governed by Sec. 7-9-150 of the Orange County Zoning Code in addition to these regulations.
2. The Feature Plan may be amended by the same procedure listed above.
3. If there is doubt about the need for an amendment to the Feature Plan, the Director, EMA will be the determining authority.
4. The Feature Plan may be combined and processed concurrently with a Zone Change.
5. In addition to the information required by Section 7-9-150 of the Orange County Zoning Code the Feature Plan shall include:
 - a. A program of the phasing of land uses.
 - b. Identification and examples of treatment of the interface between development and any open space areas.

6. A Feature Plan shall be processed in accordance with the procedures specified in Section 7-9-150 of the Zoning Code.

CHAPTER 13: SITE PLAN REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURES

A. Purpose and Intent

The purpose of a required Site Plan is to provide community and governmental representatives with an opportunity to review detailed plans of all projects within the Rancho de Los Alisos Planned Community and to ensure that precise development proposals are consistent with the approved Feature Plan. Site Plans also are intended to provide an optional method for establishing alternative site development standards when it is demonstrated that the objectives of the Development Plan and Supplemental Text would be better served by such alternative standards. Site plans proposing alternative site development standards shall be approved by the Planning Commission in a public meeting.

When a Site Plan proposes to establish alternative development standards, the burden of proof shall be on the project proponent to show how the project will better serve the public interest by the establishment of the proposed alternative development standards. Failure of the project proponent to prove that granting of the establishment of alternative development standards will result in a greater benefit than would result from building the project in accordance with the baseline development standards contained in the appropriate land use designation shall result in denial of the Site Plan.

B. Content and Procedures

1. The Director, EMA or, upon referral, the Planning Commission, may approve, conditionally approve, or deny a Site Plan.
2. When required or when used to establish alternative standards in accordance with these regulations, a Site Plan shall be submitted to and approved by the Director, EMA, or, upon referral, the Planning Commission, prior to clearance for issuance of any building permit or grading permit. At the discretion of the Director, EMA, minor projects which are accessory to or an expansion of an existing use may be exempted from the requirement for Site Plan review.
3. A Site Plan may be combined and processed concurrently with tentative map(s).
4. When a project requiring approval of a Site Plan is to be developed in phases, a conceptual Site Plan may be submitted and processed in accordance with the procedures contained in this Section. A conceptual Site Plan may contain both specific and general data for the project. Building permits will only be issued for those uses within the conceptual Site Plan which have complied with the requirements of Subsection B.5. An amendment to the conceptual Site Plan may be necessary in order to provide the detailed information outlined in Subsection B.5. for subsequent phases of the project.

5. Unless the information is found to be unnecessary and the requirement is waived by the Director, EMA, Site Plans shall contain all the following data:
 - a. Plot Plans--drawn to scale, fully dimensioned and easily readable, containing the following:
 - (1) Title block (applicant's name and date drawn).
 - (2) Scale and north arrow.

 - (2) Size of plant materials, where applicable.
6. The above-listed materials shall be submitted in the form and number required by the Director, EMA. The Site Plan shall be accepted for filing when the above-described materials have been submitted in the required form and number. The Director, EMA, or, upon referral, the

- Planning Commission, shall review and take formal action on the proposal in a timely manner after acceptance.

 - i. Burden of Proof. When a Site Plan proposes to establish alternative development standards, the burden of proof shall be on the project proponent to show how the project will better serve the public interest by the establishment of alternative development standards. Failure by the project proponent to prove that granting of the establishment of alternative development standards will result in a greater public benefit than would result from building the project in accordance with the baseline development standards contained in the appropriate land use designation shall result in denial of the Site Plan.
 8. The Director, EMA, or, upon referral, the Planning Commission may approve, conditionally approve, or deny a Site Plan. However, when a Site Plan proposes the establishment of alternative development standards, the Planning Commission shall approve, conditionally approve, or deny the Site Plan.

All Site Plans reviewed by the Planning Commission shall be advertised by a public notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the area of the project at least ten (10) days prior to the public meeting. Before any Site Plan may be approved, the approving authority shall make the following findings.

- a. General Plan. That the use or project proposed by the application is compatible with the General Plan.
 - b. Zoning Regulations. That the use or project proposed by the application is compatible with the zoning regulations.
 - c. CEQA. That the approval of the permit application is in compliance with the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act.
 - d. Compatibility. That the location, size, design, and operating characteristics of the proposed use will not create unusual noise, traffic or other conditions or situations that may be objectionable, detrimental, or incompatible with other permitted uses in the vicinity.
 - e. General Welfare. That the application will not result in conditions or circumstances contrary to the public health and safety and the general welfare.
 - f. Public Benefit. The establishment of the proposed alternative development standards will result in a project of improved design which will result in a greater public benefit (e.g., aesthetics, cost and price reduction, better utilization of the land) than would otherwise be possible without the alternative development standards as proposed.
9. The appropriate County agencies shall ensure that the actual development is in substantial compliance with the approved Site Plan. Minor deviation from the approved Site Plan, as determined by the Director, EMA, shall be permitted without an amendment to the Site Plan.
 10. Action on a Site Plan may be appealed by any interested party within fifteen (15) days following the date of final determination. Appeals of a decision of the Director, EMA, shall be to the Planning Commission, and appeals of a decision of the Planning Commission shall be to the Board of Supervisors. An appeal must be in writing and must set forth the reason(s) for the appeal and evidence why the Planning Commission or Board of Supervisors should hear the appeal. The Planning Commission or the Board shall determine the merit of an appeal. An appropriate fee shall be charged for appeals, as determined by the County of Orange.
 11. When the Director, EMA, or Planning Commission, by majority vote, or any member of the Board of Supervisors, determines that a proposed Site Plan or amendment may have a substantial impact on any property within 300 feet that is not owned by the applicant, the proposed Site Plans shall be referred to the Planning Commission for a public hearing in accordance with the procedures contained in the Orange County Zoning Code for Use Permit public hearings.

12. A Site Plan may be amended by the same procedure listed above.
